

Building a Personal Professional Narrative

Due date of the assignment: 30/11/2024

One of the toughest make-or-break questions is a personal one that we all need to master answering. During the week, take some time to answer: Tell us about yourself professionally. Who are you as a professional?

 Assets (optional, no need to use all):

 Take time to reflect.

 Review your CV.

 Look up people you think of as role models online.

 The Assignment: Write a one-line professional self-introduction on a Word/PDF document and upload it to the training site. The trick is to distill everything and make it communicative.

 Note: Write this down! At the end of our training, revisit it to see how your perspective, writing, and self-presentation have evolved with the skills you gained.
